SECRECY PROVISION OF INCOME TAX LAW IS ATTACKED IN BILL

SEVERSON BILL TO OPEN STATE RECORDS TO BE HEARD IN SENATE WEDNESDAY.

BOOK MANY HEARINGS

Wednesday to Be Busy Day in Legislature; Last Chance for Measures.

(By FRED L. HOLMES.)

Madison, Feb. 11.—A fight to take the "secrecy provision" out of the state income tax law has been opened by Senator H. T. Severson of Waupaca county. He has offered a bill in the upper house to repeal that section of the statutes which prohibits the disclosure of income tax returns.

"Honest business has nothing to fear from publicity," said Senator Se-verson today. "We want to do all possible to protect honest business, but there is no reason why an income tax return should not be made public any more than the real estate assessment
roll. No one wants to protect a dishonest business."

A similar fight is being made at Washington to disclose the federal income tax returns. The assembly is also interested in the problem and a bill to take off the "secrecy" law has been offered in the house by Assemblyman C. E. Hanson. Senator Bennett has a resolution pending before the senate asking for income tax returns and Assemblyman Edwards claims that these records cannot be disclosed by the tax commission. The Severson bill will be heard Thursday.

Four calendars of hearings have been scheduled in both houses this week. On Wednesday the Benney bill to put occupational diseases under the workmen's compensation act and the Wilcox bill fixing a minimum wage status for men will be heard by the senate judiciary committee.

The assembly education committee will consider the Axel Johnson bill forbidding the use of a foreign language in the grades and high schools on Wednesday. It will consider the same day the Porter bill requiring the display of the American flag on parochial schools, on the same days as the law requiring public schools to display the flag. On Tuesday the assembly judiciary committee will consider the Knappe resolution for the calling of a constitutional convention. The Perry bill for a city manager plan will be heard on Tuesday and the Coe bill for wide sleighs will be heard by the state affairs committee on the same day.

The Ganz resolution for a 100 day session of the legislature is on for hearing Tuesday by the state affairs committee.

Wednesday promises to be a busy day in the legislature. The assembly will again consider the Benney bill
for an electric railroad commission.
On the same day the senate will consider nineteen appointments which have been made by the governor. Little opposition is expected to these appointments with the possible exception of Marshall Cousins, state bank examiner.

Wednesday will also be the final day for the introduction of bills from the floor by members and a flood of measures are expected.

BELGIAN QUEEN VISITS U. S. BATTLESHIP

Queen Elizabeth of Belgium and a

Queen Elizabeth of Belgium is admired
throughout the world for her tireless work during the war. Although a Bavarian princess she has shown herself filled with the spirit of the Belgian people. She and her husband lived in the simplest manner possible during the great struggle and she made the wives and children of the soldiers her special care. Although returned to their royal home, the king and queen are still working hard to raise a new Belgium out of

TYPHUS RAGES IN NORTHERN RUSSIA

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Vladivostok, Jan. 11.—There are approximately 25,000 cases of typhus
in Ekaterinburg, Chelabinsk and Omsk, according to Major "Jack" Reisfelder, who has returned from a trip in charge of a Red Cross relief train. Russian authorities as well as the American Red Cross are exerting every effort to check the spread of the disease.

Disease, starvation and the rigorous climate, besides the sporadic fighting along the western front, pile up
the dead faster than they can be disposed of. Grave digging in the frozen ground is impossible. The bodies are loaded into cars and hauled out on the line for such disposition, apparently, as occurs to the railway officials.

A 450 bed hospital established by the Red Cross in Tieman is filled.
A Russian typhus hospital in Ekaterin-
burg contained hundreds of patients with practically no sanitary arrangements for caring for them.
Next to the need for medicines and medical help, conditions throughout western Siberia call for clothing supplies. Many refugees are well supplied with funds but are in rage because of the scarcity of clothing or material out of which to make garments.

BERNE TRADES UNION CONGRESS ADJOURNS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Berne, Monday, Feb. 10.—The international trades union congress adjourned today after deciding to meet again in May.

The last question discussed was a demand by Herr Schenberger, a German delegate, whether the French and English delegates were prepared to condemn the employment of German prisoners on forced labor and the maintenance of the blockade. Leon Jouhaux, a French delegate and president of the French labor federation,
in reply said the negotiations by the Germans from Belgium and northern France and the treatment of Russian prisoners after the treaty of Brest-Litovsk made it difficult for his party
to intervene with the French government.

It seems probable, however, that
these matters will be considered later,
by that organization.

SEATTLE GOES BACK TO WORK; BUSINESS PROCEEDS AS USUAL

GENERAL STRIKE AFFECTING 55,000 WORKERS ENDS THIS NOON.

MINERS STILL OUT

Martial Law Not Needed to Cope
With Situation at Butte.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 11.—Seattle's general strike was to end at noon today.

The strike was called last Thursday
when 50,000 men and women quit work in sympathy with the strike of 25,000 metal trades workers. The metal workers, whose actions have been tied up temporarily Seattle's large shipbuilding plants, remain out.

Military forces will remain on duty
here until danger of possible disorder is over.

Guns to Butte.
Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 11.—Twelve men and one officer left Camp Lewis
last night for Butte, Mont., where they will join forces with the units of the 44th infantry now on strike duty
there. All were expert machine gun men.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 11.—With a declaration by Major A. M. Jones,
commander of the federal troops stationed in Butte, that there was no necessity for declaring martial law in connection with the strike of members of the Butte Metal Miners union (independent) and the Metal Mine Workers industrial union number 50, I. W.

W. interest centers in the attitude of other union labor organizations relative to the calling of a general strike.
Notification by the Anaconda Copper Mining company to independent shippers that customs ore would not be received at their smelters at Anaconda and Great Falls, was taken by the shippers to indicate that the Anaconda company is preparing to close down the big smelters at those cities.
Closing down the smelters will throw several thousand men in idles-ness.

Textile Workers Still Out.
Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 11.—While leaders in the textile workers strike
here for 45 hours work with 54 hours
pay asserted there was no increase in the number who returned to work
either yesterday or today, mill officials said more employees were at work
than at any time since the strike
started a week ago.

Valentine Mott has returned to the Great Lakes training station, after a 24-hour furlough at his home in this city.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE
PHOSPHATE

Nothing like Plain Bitter-Phosphate to Put On Meat, Healthy Flesh and To Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing and making them plump, it is placing ugly hollows and angles by the soft, curved lines of health and beauty, there is evidence that thin men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known as Bitter-Phosphate. This phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Smith Drug Co. in Janesville, and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, Bitter-Phosphate quickly produces a complete transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy which nearly always accompanies excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although Bitter-Phosphate is unadvised for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

A Safe 7 Per Cent
for Wisconsin Money

The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company, Wisconsin's largest, strongest public utility company, offers Wisconsin investors its 5-year, 7%, bond-secured Gold Notes at par, in $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 sizes.

Sale of the Notes—an issue of $3,600,000—was approved by the Wisconsin Railroad Commission, to finance the growth of Milwaukee's electric power, light, heat and transportation system.

The value of the State-appraised property and business back of the Notes exceeds $50,000,000, which is $16,000,000 more than total debt secured and insured, including this issue.

A reasonable yearly net income on the State-appraised value of the system is assured by State regulation of its rates, fares, service, financing and accounting.

More than 1,000 Wisconsin investors took the first half of the issue in six days. This is the only high grade short term Wisconsin Note issue now selling at a price to pay investors as much as 7 per cent.

Note buyers collect interest twice a year—May 1 and November 1—by clipping interest coupons and taking them to the nearest bank. The Notes mature November 1, 1923.

The $50 Note earns $17.50 interest in five years; the $100 Note, $35; the $500 Note, $175; the $1,000 Note, $350. Why let your money earn less?

Janesville buyers are asked to order through the MERCHANTS AND SAVINGS BANK, of Janesville, or direct from the Securities Department, Public Service Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

INCOME FROM $100,000 FROM FIELD FAMILY

Peggy Marsh and son Henry.

Peggy Marsh, a chorus girl of twenty-three, is to receive the income from $100,000 from the millionaire Field family of Chicago to support herself and her boy for life. The agreement was made recently by the Fields because of claims she had upon the late Henry Field, grandson of Marshall Field and brother of Marshall Field 3rd. Mrs. Marsh, as she is known, in bringing a friendly suit to obtain the agreement, stated that Field was the father of the boy and had given her several large sums of money to support herself and baby.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Sgt. Arthur Karberg, Camp Grant, returned yesterday. He spent the week end in Janesville.

"HIS LOVE STORY"
TO RUN SERIALLY

"His Love Story," a tale of love and honor, centering about a sturdy young captain in the French army and an American girl, is the new serial to be started in this paper soon. The story is from the pen of Marie Van Vorst, a famous author and a dreamer. The heroine is a charming American girl. She is wealthy. He is poor. They fall in love at first sight. The young officer is whisked away to active service in Algiers before he can declare himself. He goes through skirmish and battle. How he is left for dead in the desert islands, is miraculously saved, and finally restored to the girl he loves, makes a gripping story.

LOCAL MUSICIANS
WILL GIVE DANCE

Janesville dancers who are divided regarding the relative merits of the three dance orchestras in this city will have an opportunity to dance to the music of all on the same evening. This good news was announced this morning.

On Feb. 27 the musicians of Janesville will give a dancing party at the armory and all three organizations have been secured to play. Hatch's orchestra will be there, the Lakota Jass orchestra will play, and the ever popular Arcadia ragtimers will display their talent.

Every effort is being made to make the dance the biggest affair held in this city in recent years. It is hoped to have a concert by the Bower City band preceding the dancing. The orchestras will play for an hour each.

Church News

The Kings Daughters will hold a special meeting in parlors of Baptist church, Thursday at 3 o'clock.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, Feb. 11.—Fire of unknown origin partially destroyed the C. H. Babcock home on Rollin street yesterday afternoon. The roof of the structure was badly burned and but for the timely arrival of the fire department the entire structure would have been consumed. The fire started in the attic and had gained such headway before it was discovered that considerable water had to be used to extinguish the flames. The damage by fire was confined to the roof, but the entire house was damaged considerably by water. Considerable of the furniture from the lower part of the house was removed. The loss will run into the hundreds of dollars, but it is thought that the insurance will practically cover the loss.

Word comes to the city of the death of De Forest Greenwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Greenwood. Death was due to tubercular trouble. Death funeral was held at Milwaukee.

The first luncheon and speaker given by the members of the Chamber of Commerce will be held at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, at the Carlton hotel. The purpose of the luncheon is, first, to get the members of the chamber together in a social way and to acquaint them with the program of work which the chamber of commerce will undertake during the year, and to secure their hearty co-operation in this work; second to give the members an opportunity to meet and become acquainted with the new proprietor and manager of the hotel.

The committee has been fortunate in obtaining the consent of William G. Bruce, president of the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce, to be here and address the meeting.

C. W. Gifford appeared before the members of the local K. P. lodge at their regular meeting last evening and gave an interesting talk on his experiences while in service in the trenches. Mr. Gifford is a member of the local lodge and at one time held a position as instructor in the local high school. He was recently mustered out of the service at New York.

Frank Kellogg received four cases of bundle tobacco at this station yesterday for the P. Lorillard company of Madison.

Mrs. A. B. Peterson and children of Prairie du Chien arrived last evening and will visit at the homes of E. S. Hatch and Miss Florence Child.

Mrs. N. A. Nelson received the news of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Even Simonsen, Pleasant Springs.

The Boy Scouts were at the depot last evening in a body and escorted the body of the late Mrs. M. R. Brandt from the depot to the Willson home.

Rev. Brandt organized the boy scouts in the city and the boys took this method of showing their sympathy to their former scoutmaster.

ger and Better Community.

Tobacco Growers.

Tobacco growers of the county
have taken the first step in a move to market their product without depending upon local buyers. They have organized a Rock county association with the purpose of pooling their interests and making arrangements to hold their tobacco until they can sell
at what they consider a fair price.

The farmers have as much right to organize to protect their interests as any other class but they have shown little interest in such a plan, perhaps because they have not been sufficiently aroused to the needs for co-operation.

Tobacco growers declared at their meeting they raised their crop last year at costs much greater than those of previous years and feel that they are not getting a square deal when the buyers refuse to buy their products. They were importuned to raise more tobacco than they would ordinarily put in, because at the time,
the demand promised to be greater than the supply.

They have declared they believe 30 cents a pound is the price they should have for the 1918 crop. Whether it will be advantageous to set a price
at this time is a question, but the co-operative plan will strengthen their position so that they will be able to determine the price which shall be paid.

MAYOR'S SALARY.

The council has unanimously agreed that the salary of mayor for last year should be $1,500 a year. The citizens of Janesville will agree with the council. The office of mayor of a city which has the responsibilities Janesville will have as the result of the anticipated growth, should pay at least living expenses. Janesville's mayor should be a man who will be representative of the spirit which has developed in the last few months—
that of forcing ahead along civic, industrial and business lines. It is just as necessary for the city to have an executive who is big enough to keep pace with the growth as it is necessary for a business institution to obtain the best man available to conduct its affairs. Many men who would make excellent mayors feel they cannot afford to sacrifice the time necessary to properly carry on the city's affairs for the present compensation.

VICTORY GARDENS.

"Enlist with the soldiers of the soil
and win the new war—the war for food," says a letter which has been sent out to city officials by the national war garden commission. The commission is sending out garden books
and is asking that outlines of the campaign be sent to the commission with the view to co-operation.

"Everything possible must be done to increase home food production,"
says Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the commission. "From a business standpoint it is absolutely essential. We hear people predicting bread lines. Keep your garden and helping to feed yourself. The banks of the country are co-operating in a magnificent way in the distribution of our garden books. The agricultural agents of the United States railroad administration are putting up the commission posters. Get on the firing line in the new war for food."

The national war garden commission is campaigning in every state through local committees having in charge the victory garden campaign.
Motion pictures are being used and these are being booked through Y. M.
C. A. organizations, Red Cross and similar bodies. The commission which has headquarters in the Maryland near from Washington is anxious to build up women's clubs and various civic organizations that are interested in the work of increasing the production of food, i. e. b. the kitchen door."

"It will be only a few weeks now
when attention must be given to our 1919 gardens. We have room to grow plenty of table food for summer and have some left over winter consumption. Now is the time to make plans.
The government will give all the aid
desired."

The extension division of the University of Wisconsin has opened up a road-building course which can be used by roadmen and patrolmen, as well as commissioners, inspectors and foremen. The course, announced in Janesville, is in road-making and maintenance laws, drainage, care of earth roads and many other problems which face those who look after our highways as well as those who will construct and look after those which will be built in the next few years. Every man who is interested in this course should enroll at once. When he has finished his course he will be inestimable worth to his community.

The boys who have taken advantage of the vocational training offered by the city schools are making good in the shops where they have obtained jobs. More jobs are going to be open for boys who have the "pop" to learn
all they can while they have the opportunity. Every announcement
should be given the vocational school,
for Janesville is going to grow along
a line which will call for young men
of mechanical training.

The insignia worn by some of the soldiers who stop off in this city enroute from Camp Grant to their homes, has become so varied and puzzling that many of our citizens have given up trying to determine their status. Gold and silver bands, blue

bands, gold over red and many kinds of division identifications are worn
by a few of the decorations worn by the men who have come back from France.

Another honor has been added to Rock county's long list of achievements on the farm. A Beloit man, Noyes Raessler, took the sweepstakes
with a bushel of pedigreed rye at the grain show at Madison, last week. He not only won this time but he has won three times and gets the trophy for winter rye offered by the Milwaukee
Chamber of Commerce.

The suffragists will have to be given credit for being persistent. No sooner did the announcement come that congress had defeated the federal constitutional amendment than they announced that they would be "up and at 'em" in the next congress. It looks from here as if they would be successful when their republican friends take their seats.

The Bolshevik movement in the west was nipped in the bud in a most satisfactory manner. Mayor Ole Hanson handled the strikers and sympathizers with a firm grasp and sent a chill of discouragement down the spinal columns of the agitators who are attempting to implant their revolutionary doctrine in the United States.

Those who have served so faithfully
the good administration have been publicly thanked by A. H. Melville, state administrator. The splendid success won by Wisconsin in that department is due to the unselfish interest displayed by the men and women
who led the work in the various counties of the state.

The Bennett bill, which provides for the enforcement of prohibition, has some real kinks. If it should pass, Wisconsin would be about as dry as any state could be made through legislation. It even provides a heavy fine for the fellow who winks in the direction of a drink.

Leaders in congress have declared
they will protest the so-called luxury
of wearing apparel as soon as President Wilson signs the revenue bill. It is about time something was done to give a fellow a chance to buy
an extra suit of clothes without having to pay a premium. Prices are high enough.

Every little bit helps. Fifty-four I.
W. have been sent on their way back to Europe. This is a good start and should be followed by deportations on a larger scale. We have little room for such agitators, with two million men coming back from Europe, eager and willing to work.

Another honor has been conferred upon President Wilson. He will issue
the formal call to the nations of the world to join the society of nations,
after the machinery has been set up
by the peace conference.

Inasmuch as the socialists of Europe have shown a desire to force constructive legislation their demands for hours of work for women be defined will probably be given some consideration by the peace conference.

R. H. Ashton, regional director of railroads for this section, shows that over $34,000,000 was saved in operating expenses for the year ending
Dec. 31. He does not make a report, however, on service.

THEIR OPINIONS

Looking for Work.
Workers in this country who are inclined to strike for more wages should remember that already many are looking for employment without being overly particular about the wage question.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

New Worries.
Something new to worry about—the revenue bill. How will it hit the individual tax payer; that's the question.
If you smoke just the ordinary cigar,
you may not feel any increase in cost,
but the taste may be a little more pungent;
if you eat ice cream you are sure to pay or else your dish will be smaller. You may take revenge by ab-staining during the Lenten period, but sooner or later you'll get 'em somewhere.—Pond du Lac Commonwealth.

Even a Bolshevik.
Even a Bolshevik has an instinct for combining business with pleasure.
One was caught in Berlin, Germany,
with jewelry worth $15,000, stolen
from a store.—Superior Telegram.

She is Welcome.
Mexico is a most amiable about selling Lower California or any of her border land to the U. S. A., not granting any leases to American capital.
She prefers to operate the subsoil
herself.—Applian Green.

Enemies at Home.
We do not have to go abroad to find the enemy of America. The enemy abroad is crushed. Only the enemy right here in our own country remains active in his continuing condemnation of America and all its institutions and laws.—Wisconsin State Journal.

Eddie Leroy Knows.
The usual talk of a short session is rife at Madison. The members can prove that they mean business by cutting down the number of bills introduced. In no other way can a session
be made short.—Marquette Eagle-Star.

Without Politics.
Wisconsin will undoubtedly enact a
health insurance and old age measure,
but it must be practical, beneficial and every possible trace of the moisture of politics eliminated. If not, it should be left in the unacted class.—Racine Journal News.

Diseases of Teeth.

The use of gold as a substitute for teeth or bone as a filling was perfected in 1855 by Dr. Robert Arthur of Bul-timore, while in 1884 Prof. A. D. Miller of Berlin, in his discovery of the bacteria origin of diseases of the teeth
and of the large part played by lactic acid, opened the way to avenues of research which may ultimately lead to the total extinction of the dentist.

Sunday Walking Was Illegal.

In England during 1699 two men were found guilty of the crime of walking from Bristol to Bath on Sunday and were fined 20 shillings ($4.80)
each. The only traders allowed to travel in England at that time were milkmen. At the present time railroads have provided a special Sunday
schedule, excursions, etc., in order to accommodate the traveling public.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Feb.
11, 1879.—The Cluster Rites of Whitewater have arranged for a merry dance
on the 14th inst. The millitiamen
this city have been invited to attend
and will doubtless be represented by a good sized delegation.
Tonight the Court street literary society meet to hear and talk about Arcyn Burr. An interesting program has been arranged.
A matrimonial event of interest occurred today at the residence of Mr.
and Mrs. F. S. Lawrence. It being the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ella E. Lawrence to Henry A. Tenny.

The ceremony was conducted at eleven o'clock this morning by Rev. Mr.
Sunderson in the presence of intimate friends and relatives. After the usual congratulations, a repast was partaken
of and the newly wedded departed for Chicago. After a short wedding trip they will proceed to Nebraska where they will make their home.

It appears that those already in the employ of Uncle Sam cannot avoid a draft. Miss Peterson has sufficiently recovered enough from a cold to go back to duty and Doug King wears his neck in a flannel sling, with others yet
to hear from.

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUEST.
STORY-TIME.
"Tell us a story," comes the cry
From little lips when nights are cold.
And in the grate the flames leap high.
"Tell us a tale of pirates bold,
Or fairies hiding in the glen,
Or of a ship that's wrecked at sea."
I fill my pipe, and there are then
Gather the children round my knee.

I give them all a tale to play—
No longer are they youngsters
small.
And I, their daddy, turning gray:
We are adventurers, one and all.
We journey forth as Robin Hood
In search of treasure, or of gold.
Some claim a ring or of good,
One heart is ever brave and true.

We take a solemn oath to be Defenders of the story flag.
We have the winter's story sea
Or climb the rugged mountain crag
To battle to the death with those Who would defame our native land.

We pitch our camp among the snows
Or on the tropics' burning sand.
We rescue maidens, young and fair,
And capture lions in prison towers;
We slay the villain in his lair,
For we're possessed of magic powers.

And though we desperately fight,
We know our foes are we, the best.
We always triumph for the right;
We have not lost a battle yet.
It matters not how far we stray,
Nor where our battle lines may be,
We always conquer just in time
That we must spend a night at sea.
It matters not how high we climb,
How many our railway conquests,
We always conquer just in time
To go to bed at 9 o'clock.

The French have suffered and bled
more than any other nation at war.
Over 36 million population, 6 million were placed in the trenches and have poured out their blood on the altar
of Liberty. America will ever remember this heroic sacrifice. It is likewise not unmindful of the great serv-

PRESBYTERIANS MEET AT CHICAGO TODAY

Nine members of the local Presbyterian church are in attendance at the New Era conference which opened at Chicago this morning. Over a thousand people from the middle west are at the meeting. The new era movement is to meet the changing conditions due to the war or other causes. Those at the conference are Rev. J. A. Melrose, George Metcalf, Mrs. Isabella Lovejoy, Mrs. S. M. Smith, Mrs. D. Macchalls, Mrs. E. E. Kinnear, Mrs. Oscar Atton, Miss Grace Mount and Miss Louise Hanson.

The church already plans to appropriate $500,000 for stricken protestant churches in France, Belgium and Italy, and another $500,000 for aiding young men who went forth to war from Presbyterian homes and who returned from the front wounded or crippled. The general benevolent budget of the church next year will be $13,000,000, which includes home and foreign missions, educational work and social service activities. There is an increase of 100 per cent. The church aims to carry on relief work as spiritual activities, and will seek to alleviate sickness, poverty and distress in every community. Homes touched by the war will have special consideration.

The new era program has an ultimate five year program, which will involve the raising and spending of $75,000,000 for progressive church work. It will be done in co-operation with other denominations.

TRACKS AT SAMSON PLANT MADE READY

Transference of the railroad tracks at the Samson plant, some distance from the building to the north siding, where the unloading is to be done, will be completed tomorrow. A crew of men has been working on the task since Saturday.

When the tracks have been moved to their new position, it will be possible to run cars up to the building, unload them without loss of time, and switch them onto another track, when they will be shipped back.

The work of assembly in unit-one will commence March 1 at the rate of one complete tractor every six minutes, and will later be increased three times. This will necessitate a constant stream of railroad cars from every country and every part of the parts which will make up the finished machine.

STATE GUARD OFFICER WILL HOLD INSPECTION

Capt. Edward Baumann, Co. G, Wisconsin state guards, received word this morning that the inspecting officer of the quartermaster department of the state guards would be in Janesville, Thursday evening, for the purpose of holding armory and equipment inspection.

Captain Baumann requests that all members of the company bring their equipment to the armory, Thursday, as it is imperative that every article be in the armory when the officer arrives.

Captain Baumann stated this morning that he did not know what officer would inspect the company, but undoubtedly several of the officers of the state guard including Major Atwood would be in the city for the inspection.

TAX PAYING TIME EXPIRES SATURDAY

Owing to the large number who have not as yet paid their taxes, City Treasurer Muenchow announced this morning that the office of the city treasurer would be open Wednesday and Saturday of this week for the purpose of collecting taxes. Feb. 15 is the last day to pay taxes and the delinquent ones will be penalized. Several of the largest taxpayers of the city are still to be heard from and it is expected that the rush at the office will be increased daily the rest of the week.

Jefferson Man Well Pleased With Police

W. F. Copen, Jefferson, was high in his praise of the local police force this morning after the police had insisted that he pay his taxes. Christ, a wealthy resident of Jefferson. Mr. Copen dashed into the station yesterday afternoon and requested Chief of Police Gower to start a search for his missing car. He was told that while obtaining the man's description, turned on the street lights and in less than five minutes every day member of the Janesville force had a complete description of the man and had started their search. No trace of the missing man could be found in this city and Mr. Copen stated this morning that he was grateful for the cooperation given him by the police and he was well pleased with the efficient manner in which the local force was handling.

Musicians Will Hold Party This Evening

Local musicians, members of the Musicians' union, will hold a meeting and stag party at their club rooms this evening. All members are requested to be present as there are several matters of importance to be brought before the meeting. Local artists will be on hand and after the meeting jazz music will reign supreme. There will be "cats" and a general good time for all who attend.

Hero Of Marines Wears War Cross

CORP. MEYER J. LAPINE. Bravery in action in the terrific fighting at Belleau wood was the service for which Corp. Meyer J. Lapine, 675 Michigan avenue, Chicago, was awarded the Croix de Guerre. He has a record of 14 months' service overseas. He recently visited in this city with his uncle, L. Borzjak. He returned to Chicago yesterday.

Corp. Lapine was with the 9th company of the sixth marines, second division. He was gassed twice and wounded once. He saw fighting in all parts of France and was a member of the brigade which was awarded the red citation cord for gallantry in action by the French. He will return to the Marine camp at Quantico, Va., the latter part of this month.

FEDERAL CONTROL TO BE DISCUSSED

Much interest is shown in the open discussion of the subject "Federal Control" which will be the feature of the Twilight Club Program at the Y. M. C. A. this evening. Supper will be served at six-thirty. F. J. Smith and O. A. Oestrich will lead the discussion. Each has been allotted 15 minutes. It is planned that at least an hour will be left for general discussion. Roger G. Cunningham will act as leader. Previous to the discussion about 15 minutes will be given to a talk on the current criticisms of the Y. M. C. A. by A. E. Matheson.

LOOKING AROUND

Miracles happen every day. J. W. Van Buren of the Kimball furniture store donated a new pair of overalls this morning and was seen wielding a hammer for several hours.

Miss Inda Stinson, bookkeeper for the City Ice company, is enjoying her "summer" vacation.

"All that glitters is not gold." If you don't believe it, ask some of the Janesville people who have been attracted by mail order catalogues.

City Clerk Victor Hemming was taken back to the days of his childhood yesterday. Vic is very reticent regarding the matter.

William Langdon idol of the basketball fans of this city has been mentioned as a candidate for mayor. He claims that he would not consider the offer under any circumstances. Bill should be in condition after just getting out of the army.

If a policeman is going to arrest young girls, we don't want one! Alderman Fautz said. Possibly he figures she could be used to usher in local elections.

Alderman Cronin, always looking ahead, asserted himself in favor of a woman police officer. Alderman Randall, chairman of the fire and police commission agreed with Alderman Cronin. Janesville may have a Copeness yet.

Some people can be fooled all the time but not by painting two old street cars with bright colors and then putting them back into service. They are just as bad to ride on as before. The two Rockford cars are again missing.

Up in Sparta they have girl reporters. The manager of the big soldier dance given there Saturday was in a quandary of lack of publicity given the event.

"Why didn't you print something about our big dance?" he asked sharply when the reporter called for news. "Oh, I never go to dances," said the reporter, in a tone showing that she thought she had justified herself. "Where are the buttons for your coat?" asked Manager Schmitt as he looked through the job index. "Got 'em here in my pocket," said the stranger. "Have to carry some-thing there—besides this empty pocketbook."

Dick Saxby has returned from Lake Koshong, where he went fishing through the ice and swimming, too. Dick slipped through the hole he dug, and scared all the fish away, so he returned empty-handed.

One "down-and-out" came into the employment office this morning wearing, besides a sorrowful smile, an overcoat without any buttons on it. "Where are the buttons for your coat?" asked Manager Schmitt as he looked through the job index. "Got 'em here in my pocket," said the stranger. "Have to carry some-thing there—besides this empty pocketbook."

Ammunition for Rifle Club Will Arrive Soon

Members of the Janesville Rifle club are anxiously waiting for their application to be approved and their ammunition to be received in order that they may start practicing. The application for membership to the National Rifle association has been sent to Major Driver, Madison, and it is expected that the ammunition will arrive during the week.

ALDERMEN HAVE NO VOICE IN FIXING OF SALARY FOR OFFICER

"When we can reach a decision to have a first-class probation officer I am for it, but not until then," Judge Maxfield said when asked regarding the appointment of such an officer in this city.

Judge Maxfield was astonished when informed that the city council had suggested a salary to be paid a probation officer and according to the Wisconsin statutes the city council has no voice in the matter whatsoever. The statutes state that a probation officer shall be appointed by the judge and that the salary shall be fixed by the county board.

Judge Maxfield declared that he was anxious and willing to have a probation officer if a good one can be secured, but he is not in favor of appointing one to work part of the time, as was proposed and discussed by the county board.

"One hundred dollars a year for a probation officer is absolutely out of the question," Judge Maxfield said, "and until the people desiring such an officer can reach a definite decision I am not inclined to approve of any plan."

In discussing the appointment of a probation officer the people can have one at any time they desire, but their plans must meet my approval, and the city council certainly has no power to fix the salary as they have no voice in the matter whatsoever," Judge Maxfield said.

"Regarding the appointment of a probation officer the people can have one at any time they desire, but their plans must meet my approval, and the city council certainly has no power to fix the salary as they have no voice in the matter whatsoever," Judge Maxfield said.

David D. Vaughan Will Tell Boys and Fathers of "Dad and His Dad"

David D. Vaughan of Chicago, who for five years served in Chicago's "Jungle district," the stock yards on the south side, has been secured by A. S. Phelps to deliver the talk at the "Father and Sons" banquet tomorrow night. Mr. Vaughan will speak on "Dad and His Dad." There will be local speakers as well. The committee announced today that there are enough boys so that men who desire to attend the "feed" can take a boy with them, even if they have not one of their own. Mr. Phelps is in touch with these boys and is waiting to hear from men who wish to accompany them to the big banquet.

Mr. Vaughan, who will make the main talk, is one of Chicago's best speakers.

W. C. C. S. BUREAU ENDS WORK HERE

The War Camp Community Service bureau in this city will close permanently Thursday. J. E. Biggs, manager of the district in which the Janesville office is located, announced today that due to new regulations regarding the release of soldiers, no further use for the bureau here can be seen. An order received from Chicago headquarters asks that the office be closed immediately.

The sale of railroad tickets at the camps has made it possible for soldiers to plan their trips home so that they stay in Janesville only an hour or two. It was expected several weeks ago that the community service bureau would open sleeping quarters to take care of the surplus of men passing through the city.

Mr. Biggs leaves here Friday morning for Madison, where he will close another office. He will then go to Springfield, Ill., where he is in charge of the work for Camp Robinson men will be continued.

M. O. Mount, H. H. Bliss, Frank Jackson and A. E. Matheson, the local W. C. C. S. committee, will keep headquarters informed of the local situation, and if the need for a bureau presents itself, will make arrangements to reopen the office.

Children Ask Guardian Be Appointed for Father

Testimony was taken in county court before Judge Fifield this afternoon in the matter of an appointment of a guardian for Maurice Reed of this city. Holding that he is incompetent, the children of Mr. Reed seek to have a guardian named to care for his interests.

Testimony for the petitioners tended to show that Mr. Reed had allowed his farm to run to ruin through neglect and that he had been spending money recklessly. F. C. Burpee and Charles E. Pierce are representing the petitioners while W. H. Dougherty and John L. Fisher are contesting the matter for Maurice Reed.

Irish-Christman Property Case Settled in Court

Judgment of partition and sale of real estate was ordered by Judge Grimm in circuit court yesterday afternoon in the case of Harile Irish, et al., Beloit, vs. Sarah Christman, et al., Beloit. J. C. Rosa appeared for the plaintiff, while the defendant's appearance on the part of the defendant.

It was a comparatively quiet day for Judge Grimm, this being the only case brought before him for decision. He will be at the court house Monday morning until 10 o'clock at which time several cases will probably be decided by him.

Moose Complete Plans for Initiatory Service

Janesville lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, have completed plans for the installation, initiation and frolic to be held Sunday by Forward Legion, No. 191, Mooseheart of the World. More than two hundred members of the organization from Madison, Stoughton, and Monroe will be in attendance. The initiatory work and installation will be put on in the East Side Odd Fellows hall and the banquet to be given the visiting members will be served in the Moose hall and club rooms.

Two Beloit Firms File Incorporation Articles

Articles of incorporation of the Rosenblatt Realty company and the H. Rosenblatt & Sons (Inc.), both Beloit firms, were filed today with Register of Deeds F. P. Smyke. The latter corporation, which is formed for the purpose for the sale and manufacture of clothing is capitalized at $225,000, while the realty corporation is capitalized at $25,000.

Methodist Men's Chorus Entertains at Shopiere

Members of the Methodist men's brotherhood of Shopiere enjoyed a pleasing entertainment in Shopiere last evening. The men's chorus of the Methodist church of this city furnished the musical program. Prof. L. A. Graber of the University of Wisconsin gave an interesting talk on agriculture.

The Bluebell club of the Wisconsin Telephone company entertained at a private dancing party at East Side Odd Fellows hall Saturday night. About 50 couples attended. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dewey chartered the dance. Music was furnished by the Schaub and Muenchow orchestra.

News Notes from Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

The Three Moores. Owen, left; Tom, right and Matt below.

Goldwyn has signed a contract calling for the services of another Moore brother. It certainly looks as if the County, Mo., Ireland, were going to be well represented in Goldwyn releases in the future. Tom was the first to sign and after scoring many successes as leading man for some of the leading stars including Madge Kennedy, Mat Marsh and Mabel Normand, he was finally made a star in his own right.

Matt was the next one to be signed up and his first appearance will be in support of Mae Marsh in "The Dondage of Barbara," which will be released next month. Matt is too well known to motion picture enthusiasts to need an introduction. He became popular in the days when Florence Lawrence was one of the leading female stars, and he may be remembered as the hero in "The Pride of the East," one of Mary Pickford's best plays. By the way, Mary is Matt's sister-in-law.

And that brings to mind Mary's husband, Owen. Owen is the third Moore to be added to the Goldwyn forces. To my way of thinking he was one of the very best leading men on the screen. He has been absent from the silver screen for more than two years and his return will be more than welcome. He will appear in the next Rex Beach picture.

All the Moores, there is another brother, Joe, have been associated in one way or another with the picture business since the old Biograph days. Every one of them makes an ideal manic hero and Goldwyn is unusually fortunate in securing the trio, Owen, Matt and Tom.

OLD PICKFORD
The Dawn of a Tomorrow. Frances Burnett story, is to be released again. This will be recalled as a picture of the slums of London in which Mary Pickford appears as a girl with a religious turn of mind. The story is one of exceptional heart appeal and at one time served as a stage vehicle in which Eleanor Robson, now Mrs. August Belmont, achieved her greatest triumph.

SOME LUCKY DOG
Mabel Normand got a dog from the Los Angeles pound to play with her in "Sis Hopkins." That she made when several trained dogs fell down on the job. The mongrel was on the point of being asphyxiated. Now the Goldwyn star declares that he will be cared for almost as she named him. Then on account of an amusing incident in the play on which the plot hinges.

IS A BABY VERERAN
Although but seven years old, Baby Marie Osborne is almost a veteran of the screen. She is now one of Pathé's highest paid stars and has three years of experience behind her. She made her screen debut on her fourth birthday.

inches or more deep flowing over some of the crossings and sidewalks. With such conditions recurring practically every spring something should be done by the city. The extension of the storm sewer from Ravine street north on Pine to Mineral Point avenue would care for the surface water. Mineral Point avenue should be converted to a permanent up-to-date highway. These two improvements would greatly increase the value of property in this district. Then with extension of the sanitary sewer, city water and gas mains this section of the first ward would enter into a new era of development.

MARY WELCOMES "HER BOYS"

Mary Pickford, perched on shoulders of Corporal Gunkey, at left, and Private Kenneth Harland.

When Battery B, 143rd field artillery, of Oakland, Cal., returned home from service in France the city gave it the royal welcome it deserved. Mary Pickford, famous movie star, who "adopted" the battery, welcomed "her boys" home. Dressed in khaki, she greeted the boys. They showed their affection for her by boosting her on their shoulders and cheering her to the skies.

THE DOT DRAWING CLASS

"My gracious, Hiram," said the Dot Drawing teacher to one of her scholars who came in all bundled up. "There certainly was no chance for you to catch cold. It is a fine thing for parents to be cautious and see that their children are in no danger of catching cold. You are as warm as toast and as soon as we get these heavy things off I want you to go to the board and see what you can draw with the dots around the letter 'E'."

"I know what it will be," said Hiram. "I was reading a book on Alaska and I think the E when finished will look like a."

TIPPECANOE

"We were married a month ago," said Scull. He seemed almost to have forgotten David's presence and his hand caressed the girl's cheek with a strange gentleness.

David looked at them for a moment in silence, then drew a deep breath. He had made up his mind. He was glad that he could be merciful, to another, though life might be never merciful to him. He thrust the pistol back into the bosom of his hunting shirt and his hand fell upon the knot of ribbon Toinette had given him.

"Do you see this?" he asked, as he drew it out.

Scull turned paler. He had freed himself from the girl's clasp, and suddenly his knees loosened beneath him and he sank at David's feet. Lydia threw her arms around his shoulders. "The mark!" cried Scull, raising trembling hands.

David looked at the ribbon with a start. "Why, yes, it is purple. But I do not show it to you as a sign that I am keeping my oath of the Brotherhood. No," as he continued his voice grew tender; he seemed to be speaking to himself or to some vision which the wretched figure kneeling at his feet could not see.

"You saved my life just now," he went on. "I would have thanked you for saving it, as you entered the love of the one I loved most in the world. For the sake of that dead love I promise you that no one shall know from me what you have been, what you are. I break my oath of the Brotherhood."

The groveling creature at David's feet raised a face of incredulity.

"You give up the Brothers' vengeance?"

BANISH CATARRH

Breathe Hyomel for Two Minutes and Relieve Stuffed-Up Head.

If you want to get relief from catarrh, cold in the head or from an irritating cough in the shortest time breathe Hyomel.

It should clear out your head in two minutes and allow you to breathe freely.

Hyomel often ends a cold in one day. It relieves you of disgusting sniffles, hawking, spitting and offensive breath in a week.

Hyomel is made chiefly from a soothing, healing antiseptic that comes from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia, where catarrh and colds are common and one of the best known to exist.

Hyomel is pleasant and easy to breathe. Just pour a few drops into a hard rubber inhaler, use as directed and relief is almost certain.

A complete Hyomel outfit, including inhaler and one bottle of Hyomel, costs but little at drug stores everywhere and at Smith Drug Co. If you already own a bottle you can have an extra bottle of Hyomel at drug stores.

AS YOUNG AS YOUR KIDNEYS

The secret of youth is ELIMINATION OF TOXINS. So far you have done this, you can live to be a hundred and enjoy the good things of life with as much pep as you did when in the springtime of youth. Keep your body in good condition, that's the secret.

Watch the kidneys. They filter and purify the blood, all of which blood passes through them once every three minutes. Keep them in good condition, proper working condition and you have nothing to fear. Drive the poisonous wastes and deadly uric acid accumulations from your system. Take the NEW MEDICAL FLAMMOL OIL Capsules and you will always be in good condition. You will feel strong and vigorous, with steady nerves and clear pinpoints of vision.

FLAMMOL OIL Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories at Haarlem, Holland.

There are few reliable remedies which have been used by the sturdy Dutch for over 200 years, and has helped them to develop into one of the strongest and healthiest races of the world. Get them from your druggist. Do not take a substitute. In sealed packages—three sizes.

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families aware by its prompt results, it is a genuine, and saves about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several powerful elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

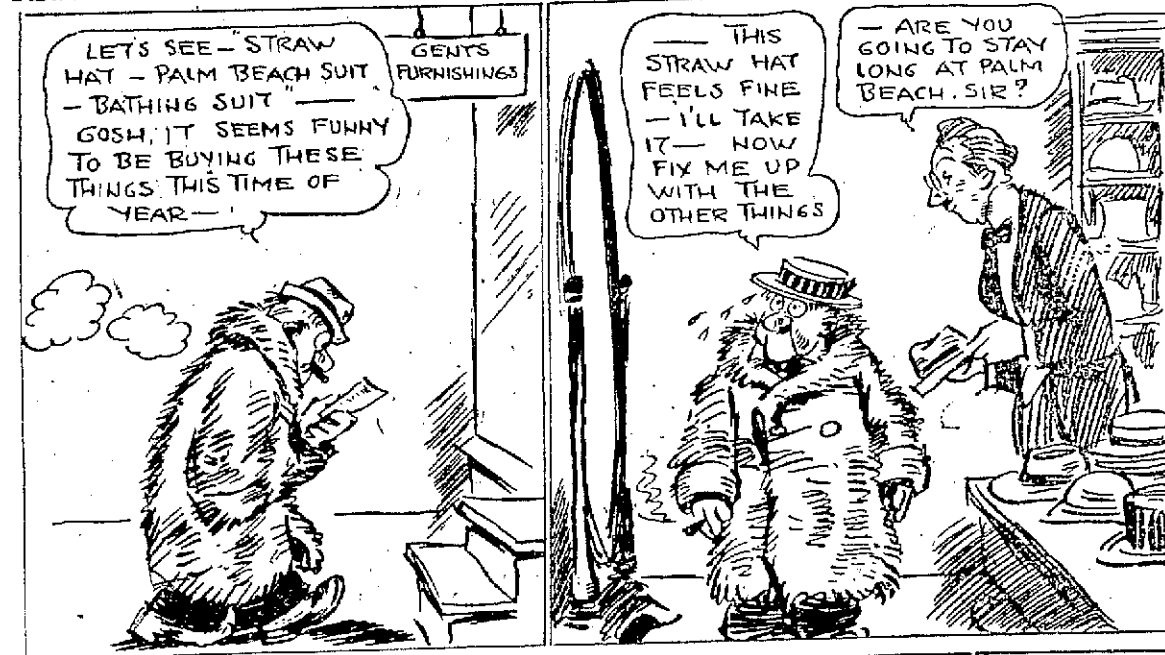

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. Pine is a powerful, healthy plant, granulated sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pine, in a pint bottle, and fill up with water. Shake well. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a first-class cure that you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, nervous and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—irritated membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will soothe and soothe in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pine, with directions, and accept nothing else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

PETEY DINK—THE WOMEN WEAR 'EM NOW, WHY CAN'T PETEY?

"LET'S SEE—STRAW HAT—Palm Beach Suit—Bathing Suit—GOSH, IT SEEMS FUNNY TO BE BUYING THESE THINGS THIS TIME OF YEAR—"

"ABSOLUTELY."

"You will not hold to your oath?"

"I have said no."

Scull looked up at him, a radiant transfiguration on his face.

"God bless you, Lawrence," he said chokingly. "You do not know what death means. You have only your own life; I have—God help me!—two lives to live for."

Lydia stooped quickly and lifted David's hand to her lips.

She went hastily from the room. The two men stood facing each other and for a while there was silence. Then David spoke slowly:

"Are you going to remain here?"

Scull straightened himself up.

"No; we shall go back to England. I have robbed you of everything, and you have given me everything. You do not wish to see my face again. But before I go I will tell Toinette the truth."

David nodded wearily and went out. A cold and dreary rain was still falling, but a ray of light shone from the tavern door on the upturned face of the dead Indian. David stopped and looked down upon the sightless visage for a moment and then laughed. The dreadful features were twisted into a smile as to ultimate victory, and a little rivulet of rain trickled unceasingly from the corner of the mouth. No more of wretched life; no more of freewill!

David's hand stole unconsciously to the pistol that hung heavily within the folds of his own blouse. His fingers tightened on it and his lips drew together in a harder line.

"Why not? The thing so easily, so quickly done. Why not?"

Was there anything remaining to make him hold to life any longer? What though Blackford did believe in him? What though a hundred friends believed in him? What mattered all their friendships, their stupid greetings, the little kindnesses of daily intercourse? What did his dreams of great things to do in this new land amount to? Petty dreams, petty tasks, buying and selling, squabblings over pennies, wranglings over little gains—a sordid prospect, the heritage of fools!

The rain fell steadily, chilling him to the very bones. Through its gray unceasing torrent he plodded, unchanged in his loneliness, to his own room in the village. Sodden with the cold flood, sodden with quenched hopes, he sank heavily upon a chair and bowed his head upon his hands, there to sit for hours in a numb wrestling with bitterness that were beyond his power to shake off.

After a long while, he rose and drew the pistol from its place—wiped the dampness from its shining barrel and gazed at it with unseeing eyes.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The Uttermost Instant.

It was the day following Scull's departure. David walked swiftly, deep into the leafless forest, and strode along Little Indian Creek, gurgling under its ice, to the spot where Toinette O'Bannon had first smiled at him in the April moon. It was there his new life had begun. And there, kneeling by the rocky ledge, he prayed, as at a shrine.

An end of all things had come to David. His long quest was over and the surf of his passion had spent itself in foam. Had it been worth while to forgive? All that he had lived for was torn from him. Toinette would know that she had judged him unjustly; but would that knowledge bring back what he had lost of her? He had been a hot-tempered fool, he had insulted her beyond forgiving. The breach had widened beyond bridging. He looked across the gulf that lay between him and Toinette and felt the bitterness of ruined hopes. He thrust his hand into his hunting shirt and drew forth the dueling pistol he had taken from Blackford's room. For a long while he stood looking at it in silence.

A light step rustled the dead leaves

underfoot and he turned quickly. Toinette stood beside him, a joyous smile on her face.

"I was sent to find you," she greeted him astonishingly.

He stared at her as though at a messenger from the skies. Her silver laughter rang out as it had in days gone by.

"Do not deceive yourself," she smiled. "I am no angel—I'm Toinette!"

David did not believe her denial; never believed it.

"Father sent me for you. He's going to give a great dinner at the tavern and you're to sit in the place of honor. Come, you mustn't keep your cook waiting."

And she held out her hand.

But David did not stir.

The look of haggard suffering had returned to his face. Her loveliness was an arrow that sent all the poison of his despair once more burning through his veins. For the first time he found a voice, a voice trembling with emotion.

"I cannot . . . I cannot . . . please go!"

She opened her eyes wide and shot a blue radiance of hurt surprise at him. Then she went swift and straight to the point, a woman not to be put aside by evasions:

"Indeed, I will not. You mustn't stay here alone."

He had regained control of himself, but the struggle left him deadly pale. He could not bear to face her as he spoke.

"I am going away. I cannot live without you." The words were hardly more than a whisper.

She took two quick steps forward. Her hand fell upon his shoulder, light as a floating strand of gossamer. But he felt it and thrilled through all his being. Slowly, slowly, he raised his head and she saw his face, that he had gone into the valley of the shadow of death. In his meek and heroic spirit he thanked God for the high honor bestowed upon him, that to him should be given the words to address so great a company. In a voice that rang with prophecy, he read aloud that thrilling call which concludes the fourteenth chapter of the Gospel of Luke; and as he lifted his eyes from the book, he found resting on him the clear steady gaze of the three-score blackwoodsman.

"I am going to speak to you about renunciation of purpose," he began, "the quality of soul which enables you to hang on to the thing you have begun until you have finished it."

David smiled.

"I call the immortal truth to witness that no fear, either of life or death, can appall me, having long learned to set bodily pain in the second form of my being. And I do now think it the act of a coward to die."

The girl had grown paler as she read his determination in his face, white and rigid as a mask.

David was silent. In the morning sunlight that dappled the little glade, the frozen branches of the trees stood motionless. A white snowflake danced across the space before David's eyes and his vision followed it up, up into the cloudless blue beyond. In the quiet, it seemed to Toinette as if she could hear her own heart beating. David spoke again, slowly:

"And if we be lieutenants of God in this troubled world, do you not think then that we have right to choose a new nation when he leaves us unprovided of good reason to stay in the old?"

"No, certainly I do not," she said, with a rebuke levelled because it lay in her sweetly troubled voice, "since it is not for us to appoint that mighty majesty what time he will help us; the uttermost instant is scope enough for him to revoke all things to one's own desire."

And she sealed her lips with the moistness of her tears, which followed still one another like a precious rope of pearls. David suddenly realized how ineffably sweet life was; wonderful, tragic, joyous worthy of music, worthy of tears.

The pistol fell to the ground unheeded. David took a step forward.

But she checked him.

"No," she said, "do not tell me. Doctor Elliott has told me all. He and Lydia have gone. Forgive me, forgive me, David! Let the dreadful past go with them! See, you have made a cry—aren't you sorry? And by this time there's no dinner for either of us."

They laughed together. They were young.

"I'll get dinner for you," promised David. "I know a butcher's son once upon a time."

"Once upon a time!" she repeated.

"That sounds like a story. That's the way they always begin."

And so it was, the beginning of a story; but David did not tell it to her then.

They went home together.

At Toinette's door, little Mr. O'Bannon hailed David with a shout.

"I saw my dove in the wilderness," he said, his eyes twinkling, "but you're the most sizable olive branch I ever

CHAPTER XIX.

The Story Begins.

In the little stone courthouse on that Sabbath morning a hundred voices were lifted in the stirring music of Giardini's triumphal hymn. The people of the countryside had gathered to give thanks to God for the victory over their savage foes. The vigor of the chant swelled in a stentorian strength which was made beautiful by the rough voices of the pioneers. In the little room the hymn echoed with the majesty of a cathedral chant:

Come, thou Almighty King,
Help us thy name to sing,
Help us to praise thee,
Father all glorious,
O'er all victorious,
Who dost with power us govern,
Ancient of days!

David felt himself thrill in every nerve; his wife's hand trembled in his and he knew that like himself, she felt the mighty glory of life and love, of trial undergone, of good triumphing over ill, of yearnings toward the life-fable. Tears of happiness stood in his eyes. The psalm of victory ceased.

The minister, a man of God, rose slowly to his feet. He, too, felt tears rising from the depths. Love had made him the apostle of the people of the wilderness and he had knelt their hearts to his with bands of humble ministry. He had never before addressed so large an audience as this. Sunday after Sunday, the ten or twelve who made up his little, Calvinistic flock, lacking a church building, gathered in the homes of his elders, Henry Rice and James Armstrong; the foundations of Goshen chapel had been securely planned; but today he found a hundred men and women watching him, expectant of spiritual comfort. No one appreciated better than the sufferings, the re-creations through which they had passed. In his meek and heroic spirit he thanked God for the high honor bestowed upon him, that to him should be given the words to address so great a company. In a voice that rang with prophecy, he read aloud that thrilling call which concludes the fourteenth chapter of the Gospel of Luke; and as he lifted his eyes from the book, he found resting on him the clear steady gaze of the three-score blackwoodsman.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion,

DOCTORS HAND OUT LIVE TIPS

Take Public Into Confidence

Prominent physicians claim people fail in life because of "nerve hunger" that is the active bright-eyed, strong herved man or woman who is "there" at work or play.

Strong, well nourished nerves is the great secret of success, health and happiness.

Men and women try to live regardless of health, strength, ambition, energy and hope, they exceed the speed limit, wasting nerve strength and energy and fail to store up reserve force, afterwards they only exist, life has no joys.

Without energy, ambition, strong nerves, and pure blood one cannot hope to enjoy the fullest measure of success and happiness.

A noted specialist says, "Phosphated Iron brings strength to the blood, nerves and brain; that it is a perfect combination of vital elements of great tonic qualities when taken by 'nerveless' humans; that it will increase body and nerve energy, restore ambition and staying powers."

He also says: "If you are the victim of nervous worry, excess of mental and physical forces, have the blues, and the pleasures of life are no longer enjoyable, that you need Phosphated Iron to brace, build you up and put you on your feet again."

Special Notice—To insure physicians and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we put up in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute other pills or tablets.

HOME AFTER LONG SERVICE OVERSEAS

Miss Dee Van Balkom.

Miss Dee Van Balkom, globe-trotter, linguist, pianist and wireless operator in the signal corps of the army, has returned to New York. Miss Van Balkom entered war service as an ambulance driver in the Canadian army. She later became a wireless operator and in January, 1917, took a group of telephone operators abroad. Although home for a rest she is now at Camp Union acting as an entertainer for the returned soldiers.

The Busy Man.

"Is Mr. Flubdub busy?" asked the diffident customer. "Mr. Flubdub is always busy," replied the pompous attendant. "Well, let him stay busy." And that's how Mr. Flubdub lost a big order.

Find Inspiration in Sheep.

In the highest of fine art, in the most appealing of poetry, sheep have been the inspiration for innumerable of the greatest attainments of prose, rhythmic and canvas. The immense horse pictures of Rosa Bonheur, the cattle pictures of Paul Potter, have never had the tender consideration that is given by the populace to small canvases by Jacque and Mauve, always dominant in sheep.—Exchange.

Simplest of Cements.

Condensed milk applied to the edges of pieces of broken china will keep the article as intact as the majority of cements on the market today, says the discoverer. He adds that he has mended saucers that have withstood washings in hot water, and has mended a telescope lens of fairly large size with this unique cement.

Cross at Both Ends.

Peggy, who lives on a farm, will some day be a skilled horsewoman. At present her pet is a lively young colt, whose disposition is not of the best. When strangers approach he will both bite and kick. "Be careful," Peggy warned a young visitor the other day, "that colt is cross at both ends!"

O'BRIEN WILL MEET SCHALLER IN FINALS

O'Brien will fight it out with Schaller for the pool tournament championship of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening. By defeating Rost 50 to 29 last night, O'Brien gained the other position in the finals. Previous to the Rost-O'Brien match Rost defeated Niles 50 to 44 in a close contest.

In the pool tournament Hall, Sprackling and Allen will battle for first place. Allen's 50-30 win over Cassidy last night places him in line for honors.

Islands Made for Silence.

Tona is the most fertile and beautiful of the Hebrides of which there are some 500 scattered about the waters to the west of Scotland, an exchange states. Only about 100 of these islands are inhabited at all, and the greater part of these latter support less than a dozen people each. It is a region of rain and mist, with rare clear days that are like the infrequent laugh of a sad but kindly nature-god. The atmosphere of the archipelago is made for dreams and silence. It seems out of the modern world.

STARS TRIM BELOIT GREYHOUNDS, 26-23

In a fast and exciting basketball battle at Beloit high school last night, the "Y" All-Stars of this city downed the Beloit Greyhounds by a score of 26 to 23. The Stars played great basketball and ran all around the 140 pound Beloit team. The first half ended 20 to 11, with the local bunch on the long end of the count. Hager starred with six baskets to his credit.

The game opened with Beloit scoring first. Hager's before the Stars woke up. It looked like a walk-away for the Greyhounds until the Stars got their old teamwork into action and piled up the counters. Hager scored for the "Y" bunch, dropping in three baskets. He was followed by Zahn. Fullman slipped away from his man and caged a couple, while Benbrook's finger ended the scoring of the first half.

Beloit opened the second half with a rush, but the stonewall defense put up by Graf and Luebke soon stopped them, and forced them to resort to long shots. Here the hounds had little success and the game ended in the Stars' favor. A return game may be played later.

The scores and line-ups:

Stars 26. Greyhounds 23.
Fullman 10, Zahn 6, Benbrook 4, Hager 8, Luebke 2, Graf 3, Trewhite 2, Leach 3.
Field goals—Hager 6, Fullman 4, Benbrook 2, Zahn 1, Benbrook 1, Lafferty 3, Leach 2, Wooster. Free throws—Leach.

CONGS OPEN SECOND ROUND WITH VICTORY

Taking all three games by close margins, the Congregational pin crackers popped the lid off the second round of the church league bowling tourney by defeating the Baptists by 303 pins at the Y. M. C. A. last night. Champs of the first round, the Congs look like the best bet in the new race, but their teams are adding some malarkey to their hitherto good record by downing Lange's aggregation, Merriek hit 214 for high score last evening. Money Not Main Object.
"All healthily minded people like making money—ought to like it and enjoy the sensation of winning it; but the main object of their life is not money. A good soldier, for instance, mainly wishes to do his fighting well. He is glad of his pay—very properly so, and justly grumbles when you keep him ten years without it—still, his main notion of life is to win battles, not to be paid for winning them."

ROCKFORD TEAM WILL PLAY LAKOTAS FEB. 12

Owing to conflicting dates with the Beloit Fair, the game scheduled for Thursday night in this city between the Lakota Cardinals and the Sundstrand quintet has been changed to Wednesday night.

Captain Hemming of the Cardinals announced this morning that the game would be played at the Army Wednesday night and that the Cardinals would present the strongest team they have had this season.

"Penney" Benway, the star of the Madison Olympics will don a Cardinal uniform for the first time tomorrow night. Benway, former star of the Washington University, has showed remarkable skill on two occasions in Janesville when he played with the Madison team and his presence with the Cardinals tomorrow night should strengthen the quintet considerably.

Coming to this city as the leaders of the Rockford City league, the Sundstrand team is one of the few teams in the country today to have a clear record for the season. The team has not some of the best teams in Illinois this season and have won all of their games by a safe margin.

The team is composed of former college and university stars and is considered by critics as one of the fastest teams in the middle west, this season. When the Lakota Cardinals take the floor tomorrow night, they will have the best team that has been presented to the fans of Janesville this season. With Casserly and Benway in the line up the team has two basket getters of unusual ability.

Captain Hemming is making every effort possible to strengthen his team for the big game of the season on February 12, when the Detroit Y. M. C. will invade the city for their first game of their western tour.

Playing with the same men that have been playing together for the past eight years, the Detroit five is undoubtedly one of the greatest teams in the United States today. They have a record of losing one game in six years and that to the I. A. C. in the Central A. A. U. tournament. The defeat handed that by the Chicago quintet was acknowledged by all to be a fluke and the Detroit bunch have defeated the Chicago team on several other occasions.

With the defeat of last week the Cardinals are anxious to again get in action and demonstrate to the fans of Janesville that the city has a basketball team they can be justly proud of and one that deserves the backing of every basketball follower in the city.

The line up of the Cardinals tomorrow evening will be composed of the following: Captain Hemming, Phillips, Peterson, Casserly, Benway and Cushing.

EAGLES DEFEATED BY BRIGGS' FAST COLTS

Briggs' Colts rolled true to form at the West Side alleys last night, defeating the Eagles five in an exciting bowling match by 20 pins. The Colts came back strong in the last one and threatened to cap the victory. The animal team hit 2,563. Robbins with 213 was high man.

In a second match game at the West Side alleys last night, the married men of the Janesville Machine company trounced the single men by a margin of 35 pins. Dealing hit the wooden boys for a total of 178. The scores of both games:

HIGH SCHOOL HAS TWO GAMES THIS WEEK

Two stiff out of town basketball games will be played this week by the high school five. Manager Zimmerman has completed arrangements whereby the locals will go to Brodhead on Friday of this week, and play pre-report at Freeport on the following night.

Both Freeport and Brodhead are reported as having strong teams, so that the games will not be any walkaway for the local bunch. A hard schedule of practice has been outlined for the players and a new training system established so that the men will be in the pink of condition for both games. It is possible that a good sized delegation will accompany the team on Friday to Brodhead.

TIGERS BELIEVE TRADE WILL AID CLUB

On the face of it the recent three-cornered trade among the Detroit, Washington and Red Sox clubs looked like a poor deal as far as Detroit was concerned. The Tigers got Eddie Ainsmith, veteran catcher, Pitcher Slim Love and Chick Shorten, an outfielder. But they lost Oscar Vitt. Briefly Navin figures that Ainsmith will save more games than the absence of Vitt would lose.

40 CHURCH BOWLERS PRESENT AT BANQUET

Forty members of the various church league bowling teams attended the banquet at the Y. M. C. A. last night which marked the end of one round of the tourney and the opening of the final stretch. Supper was served at seven o'clock. A brief program of informal talks followed. Judge Charles L. Piffeld, star bowler of the Episcopal five, told how it seemed to win a game.

A schedule for the final round was adopted and it was agreed upon that every game must either be played as scheduled or forfeited. It was also decided to hold a match game February 20, between teams composed of men in the 200 class. The schedule which was adopted follows:

Feb. 12—Lutheran, Christian.
Feb. 14—Methodist, Episcopal.
Feb. 17—Presbyterian, Congregational.
Feb. 18—Baptist, Lutheran.
Feb. 20—200 class match game.
Feb. 21—Christian, Methodist.

The Proving

By JACK LAWTON

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

"The woman lifted her head to look up to the face of the man who held it. 'Do you know,' she said, and laughed softly. 'I have been wondering how one who can so beautifully picture home and domesticity has so long escaped its charm?'

"The man looked back straight into her eyes. 'One might ask,' he replied, 'the same question of you.'

"And if I answered truly, you would not believe. One never believes a woman. It is the man alone who is supposed to prefer freedom. When I first came here," the woman smiled, "you were pointed out to me as a heartless trifler in affections. Disappointed maids, it seemed, had languished all along your path. So I concluded that you had perhaps been disappointed yourself in fancied loves, which work but fancies after all."

"Speaking from experience?" the man suggested.

"Speaking from experience," the woman calmly agreed.

"And when you came among us," he went on, "I marvelled at your choice of this sleepy town as a place of abode. You were a successful illustrator. They told me, and—pardon me—your manner and appearance were both so remarkably attractive one wondered that you could bring yourself to hide so much."

"The woman put forth a protesting hand. 'Now,' she said, 'I am not one of those who expect flattery. Therefore, it is not necessary to make the effort. I decided to build my well-earned bungalow here, and settle down in the quiet and beauty my weary spirit has long coveted. I am doing good work, the principal advantage—and I'm near enough to run into the city when occasion demands. On the same score, I have done some marveling about you. A clever man in any special line is interesting. Why does the architect of ability prefer also to reside in the hidden corner?'

"The home of my fathers," the man replied, "correctly speaking, the home of my father. Though I may travel far, this spot remains my headquarters."

"The woman nodded understandingly.

Suddenly her companion leaned forward.

"Do you know," he said, "that from the first moment I saw you, you have never been out of my thoughts?'

"Never have I," he laughed shortly, "deliberately sought without encouragement of any sort, an unmarried woman with the intention of making her—my friend. You have helped me wonderfully in suggestions concerning my work. In many ways, your frank, sweet influence—" his voice trembled. "I believe that this—friendship—is at last my longing for the home and domesticity of which you spoke. I believe—his hands reached out to clasp the woman's, but hers were busy with the portfolio—"that love has found me at last."

"You will not believe it, after a little time," she said. "Nor will I. For you have also captured me—shall we call it admiration? But love!—Oh! our friendship is too pleasant a thing to be placed with past fancied loves! Let us put the imaginative aside, and get on helpfully as we have been."

"The man arose and walked impatiently the length of the room.

"Do not let us be deceived by glamour, John. We have both grown into our independent ways; I—why, I am too selfish now to consider your needs."

Among her flowers, a few days later, a village neighbor found the illustrator. She had always been proud of her small, white hands, so they were protected now by heavy gloves.

"Have you heard," the neighbor questioned, "about John Crathorne—the bachelor architect? Well, he's down with this terrible influenza, and the doctors say he's pretty bad. His father, who was took to the hospital with it yesterday, died this morning. The housekeeper clean cleared out—scented to death of the disease; and they can't coax a soul in to take care of him. Most everybody's busy with their own home folks, and it's too late to take him to the hospital, if they was room there, which they ain't."

"The doctor was there three times today and did what he could for Mr. Crathorne. He asked me to go in, but I can't. I got to look out for my family."

Constance, the illustrator, tore the gloves from her hands; her face was white; her eyes burned with a light of purpose. Before the neighbor had reached her own door, Constance was at John Crathorne's bedside. He did not recognize her, but that did not matter.

When the doctor came again, the two labored together, through the night, and by morning the patient had been given his chance, a hopeful chance it was. Wan, disheveled, the sick man looked up into the tenderly transformed face of the woman.

"You must get better, John," she murmured fiercely. "I could die for you. I learned that last night. But I cannot live without you."

With vast effort the man moved his painful head to rest it against her breast.

"Constance," he breathed, "this is heaven."

FOOTVILLE PHONE MANAGER BURIED

James Neenan, resident of Footville for the past 16 years, died at his home there Saturday night after a few days' illness with pneumonia. He was buried Monday morning, Father McDermott, Evansville, was in charge of the service.

The pallbearers were John Martin, John Devlin, Joe Walsh, Frank Pepper, J. Roberts, and Frank Kinna. The Modern Woodman lodge of which Mr. Neenan was a member, attended the funeral services in a body. Mr. Neenan was born in Whitewater, July 26, 1857. He came to Footville with his family when he was 7 years old and has made his home there ever since. He was married April 23, 1880. His wife and two daughters, Genevieve, who is at home and Mrs. Ray Andrew, Petersburg, N. D., survive. He was made manager of the telephone company in 1903 and has brought the telephone service in that community up to a high standard of efficiency. The daughter, Genevieve, is seriously ill with the pneumonia and was unable to attend the funeral services of her father. She is under the care of a trained nurse, Mrs. C. R. Harvey, Chicago.

AND HE DID.

Meaning of "Purim."

The word "purim," the name of the annual festival of the Jews, means "lots." This feast commemorates the preservation of the Jews in Persia from the massacre with which they were threatened by Haman (Esther 9). They gave the name of Purim or "lots" to commemorate the festival because he had thrown lots to ascertain what day would be auspicious for the massacre.

ACQUAINTED TO IT.

"Doorkeeper—I'm sorry, but you can't take the baby inside. It might cry and make a disturbance. Mother—Gracious, no! Baby's used to entertainments. Why, he was good as gold at his grandfather's funeral yesterday."

ABE MARTIN

There's two things an audience never seems to get enough o'—pullin' rabbits out o' plug hats an' quartets. Who remembers when we used to say a feller had lots o' 'cheek' instead of a lot o' nerve?

Household Hints

MENU HINT.

Breakfast. Stewed Prunes. Mush and Milk. Poached Egg on Toast. Coffee. Luncheon. Cream of Celery Soup with Oysters. Celery Hearts. Chop Crackers. Baked Macaroni and Cheese. Milk. Oatmeal Drop Cakes. Dinner. Baked Fish. Escalloped Tomatoes. Pimento Salad. Rye Bread. Apple Pudding Served with Cream. Coffee.

TESTED RECIPES

Gems—One-quarter cup fat, one-quarter cup sugar, one egg well beaten, a little salt, three-quarters cup sweet milk, two teaspoons baking powder in two scant cups flour; mix as usual for muffins. Cream of Lettuce Soup—The outer green leaves, not good enough for salad, were used; one quart hot milk, slightly thickened and seasoned; simmer the lettuce leaves in barely enough water to cover them, till they are soft enough to go through the colander; add the lettuce to the hot milk, heat thoroughly and strain. Grape Fruit and Celery Salad—One cup grapefruit (diced), one cup celery (diced), mayonnaise dressing. Cut the grapefruit in halves and remove the meat in sections; then remove the skin surrounding the sections, and cut the meat in fine pieces; cut crisp white celery in pieces about the same size and add to the grapefruit. Then mix with the mayonnaise and serve in the grapefruit shells. Minced Veal Cutlet—One and one-half pounds knuckle or lean stewing veal, one and one-half teaspoons salt, pepper to taste, one cup white sauce, two eggs, one tablespoon finely chopped parsley, one-quarter teaspoon powdered mace, bread crumbs. Put the veal in to fry in a very little water, add salt, pepper and a small onion. Boil slowly until tender (the water must have boiled away). Put the meat through food chopper, add the white sauce, chopped parsley, mace and a well beaten egg. Mix well. Spread on platter and set in cold place two or three hours. (This can be made the day before.) Take and shape into cutlets. When all are shaped, dip into well beaten egg (one egg and one tablespoon milk), then into bread crumbs. Fry in very hot cooking oil until browned nicely. These cutlets are exceptionally nice for a lap affair. The above receipt makes eight cutlets. Macaroni and Salmon—One cup macaroni, one small can salmon, one cup medium cream sauce. Cook the macaroni in boiling salted water until done, then put in a greased baking dish a layer of cream sauce until all ingredients are used. Cover with buttered bread crumbs and put in oven until crumbs are a nice brown. Rye Muffins—Two cups rye flour, one cup sour milk, one tablespoon sugar, one tablespoon fat, one-half teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt, 25 to 30 minutes. While fruit pies are baking they may be prevented from boiling over

HEARD FROM OUR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Percy H. Holt. Percy H. Holt, cousin of E. Fish, 1315 Ravine street, has written the following letter from France. He is a member of field hospital 127, sanitary train 107. Walferdange, Luxembourg, December 4, 1918. Just got back from a little run down to Lux. We are driving under new rules now. All trucks and are used only with the company about half of the time. It happened that we helped move the 124 P. H. W. Went up five kilometers on to German soil to Men-non, five kilometers from Echternach.

The first night we had some bed in nice clean straw in a barn. We got a stove and set it up in the back of the barn. Packard and sure had a home there. We got milk and sugar from the people nearby and made fudge using cocoa. Had planned on fried spuds for supper, also cocoa, but that was spoiled in the middle of the afternoon when orders came to return to Walferdange after 127 P. H. Part of the drive was after dark and such a dark night. It was raining and the road went through the wood making the darkness intense. Such things are all in the day's work through and we sang and enjoyed ourselves. Percy H. Holt.

by adding one tablespoon of cornstarch to the fruit. The sugar, fruit and cornstarch should be heated before adding the crust. Shop in The Gazette before you may be prevented from boiling over

CAUTION!

SOME people have an idea that "all molasses is alike." This is not so. Molasses varies in grades—like coffee, for instance.

To know real molasses is to know Brer Rabbit—absolutely pure New Orleans Molasses from New Orleans.

The sugar shortage taught thousands of resourceful housewives how Brer Rabbit takes the place of sugar.

We all know that we use sugar because it's sweet—it has no flavor.

But Brer Rabbit not only sweetens like sugar—it flavors.

Both sugar and Brer Rabbit are made from Sugar Cane. Both are pure. Brer Rabbit contains a large amount of real sugar.

There Are Two Kinds of Brer Rabbit Molasses

Both Are Absolutely Pure New Orleans Molasses
